

Chapter Three: The Online Transcription Jobs for Beginners

After you decide to start a transcription job, the next question that comes to mind is: Where can I start as a beginner transcriptionist. For some people, working as a transcriptionist is the first job they will do from home. After resigning from my job to become a freelance writer, I needed to get something doing so that I have money coming in until my freelance writing job took off. That was when I did my first transcription job while looking for writing jobs online. Though I had no transcription experience, I applied and was hired after going through the transcription test successfully. This was the first job that introduced me to working from home, and I have been working from home since then. Accepting my first transcription job created opportunities to take up other transcription jobs, and this help me solved a lot of financial challenges I had then. For anyone seeking to start working from home, transcription jobs are the best type of job to get you started quickly. This is the quickest job I can suggest to anyone to start working online and from home.

The good news is several companies offer transcription jobs for beginners. Below is a list of companies you can start your transcription career with no experience needed.

Are you ready to start your own transcription career? I suggest taking some of the free transcription courses below over at Transcribe Anywhere. One of them is a general transcription course for those in this field, while the other is a legal transcription course for those interested in this field. Taking these mini transcription courses will give you a better understanding to decide if transcriptionist jobs is perfect for you and give you what it takes to become a successful transcriptionist.

Accutran Global

Accutran Global hires new transcribers at a particular time of the year. Accutran Global always seeks to employ experienced transcribers from the U.S. and Canada. Take note that, they have a particular time of the year when they have a ton of work and other times when there may be no work. At Accutran Global, their pay rate is for each word count for new transcribers is $0.005/word (for a start). Accutran pays on 15th of each month. For you to be successfully selected at Accutran Global, you will need to pass a transcription test. The only disadvantage working with Accutran Global is that they are not the best transcription company for parents and nursing mothers as you will be expected to turn in any jobs sent as soon as possible. To successful work with Accutran Global, you must have a workspace without distraction.

Appenscribe

Appenscribe offers global transcription jobs online for anyone in this field. If you are skilled in multiple languages, you will have a lot of work available for you. To start your transcription career with Appenscribe all you need is to create an account with them and register with them and pass some transcription test.
